READY TO-MORROW!
AUGUST 27 OF BEADLE'S DIME NOVELS, in which the loves of historic and wild-wood romance are rooted to one of the best productions of EDWARD S. ELLEN, see, via:

INDIAN JIM;

A TALE OF THE MINNESOTA MASSACRE.
By E. S. ELLEN, Author of "Seth Jones," "Bill Bidson, Trapper," "Forest Spy," "Hunter's Cabin," &c., &c.
The title indicates the character of this choice story. It is literally "founded on fact," and while it is, like all of its author's works, interestingly absorbing as a romance, it is not the less a perfect chronicle of the late outbreak in Minnesota, wherein the Indian committed so many atrocities upon settlers.

"Let the public be particular not to associate BEADLE'S DIME NOVELS with the issues of any other house. The standard of literary and moral excellence aimed at in these novels is high; the books are, without exception, pure and good, written expressly for the service by the best authors; and the publishers feel it is due alike to themselves and the public to set the word of advice given above."

EVERYBODY SHOULD READ
THE LIFE OF THEIR PRESIDENT!

NOW READ!

THAYER'S LIFE OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN,
THE PIONEER BOY.

Buy by Mail on Receipt of Price.
That a boy reared in a foolish log cabin of the West to twenty-one years of age shrank from his way, by direct perversion, into the legal profession, is a fact of sufficient importance to justify the author's statement. That he did it was. This volume answers that question by telling the story of his early life and pointing out the elements of his success. The imagination has done no more than connect facts gathered from authentic sources.
THIS BOOK IS FOR SALE OF EVERY BOOKSELLER AND NEWSPAPER IN THE COUNTRY.

ALSO, JUST READ,

A FINE LITHOGRAPHIC PORTRAIT OF THE PRESIDENT.

THE FUTURE.

BY MONTGOMERY H. THROOP.

* Of all the productions relating to the great political problems involved in the existing condition of public affairs, none has been brought to our notice more deserving of consideration than the volume with the above title.

It seems to us that the subject has been treated with great ability.—[N. Y. Journal.]

* It is the ablest political essay that has appeared in many days.—[Albany Evening Journal.]

One vol., 12mo, cloth. Price $1.25. Mailed, post free, on receipt of price.

II.

RUBINA.

A NEW AMERICAN NOVEL.

* The descriptions of domestic affairs in a genuine New-England rural home are surprisingly true and graphic, while its leading characters are drawn with such firmness, consistency and careful finish that they soon photograph from life itself. The author is certainly gifted with a unusual faculty for observation of circumstances, and for analyzing character.
See "—[The Atlantic.]

One vol., 12mo, cloth. Price $1.50.
